Our object in hybridizing is to produce better & more beautiful flowers. We cross existing types of many perennials & annuals. From the resulting crosses we select those nearest to our ideal type. By this method we have originated many very unusual gladiolus, iris & delphiniums of great beauty.

both plants have been hand pollinated. Plants treated to keep insects away. This tends to fix varieties and colors.

With crosses the selected flowers differ in color or character. This produces new varieties differing from either parent.

ROSEHOLME HAND POLLENATED SEED is considered better than field grown as the percent of germination is usually greater, the resulting sturdier.

Our FIELD GROWN SEED is carefully supervised. Plants not true to strain are removed from seed plots. Seed from the largest & best flowers only are saved.

ROSEHOLME GARDENS policy is to produce quality seed, both HAND POLLENATED & FIELD GROWN. We thank you for past patronage & trust that we will receive the same in the future.

ROSEHOLME GARDENS warrants all its bulbs to be true to name. It warrants all seeds so described, to be hand pollinated. Further than this it gives no warranty, expressed or implied, in any particular whatsoever.

ROSEHOLME GARDENS are located at West Harpswell, Maine. Many new & rare perennials are on trial. Visitors are welcome.

THE WORK WE DO.

Our interest lies in finding new perennials which will withstand temperatures of -20 degrees. We raise each year many varieties from seed from both foreign and domestic sources.

If a perennial proves hardy, has an attractive garden value either of flower or foliage, we try to improve it by selection and by crossing. Some cross readily, some are highly resistant to change; but most respond to selection if not to hybridization.

We grow new annuals selecting for bedding & cutting value. There are many annuals of merit unknown to American gardens. We only recommend those which have come up to our exacting standards. In addition we work to improve well known plants as Delphinium, Japanese Iris, Dianthus, Campanula, Gladiolus & Dahlia. We often find natural crosses & mutations among our perennials.

These we segregate if valuable and grow apart to set type.

Our plantation is small and is personally supervised by the proprietor, who does all the selecting and hybridizing personally.

Our customers have taken many prizes with our seedling gladiolus. We have discovered many interesting new annuals & perennials in the course of our work.

We are glad to answer all inquiries when stamp for return postage is enclosed, whether you are a customer or not, about any variety of plant.
